SCDA Annual Session Embraces Courage to Lead

By Heather Barker

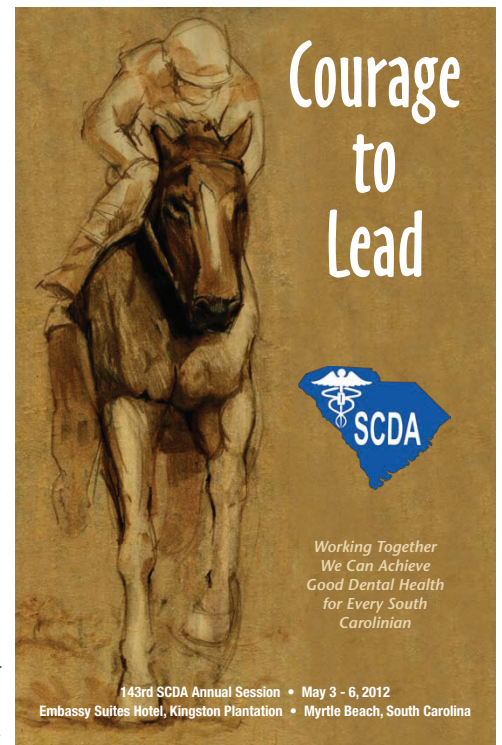

As General Chairman for the 2012 South Carolina Dental Association's Annual Session, I would like to welcome you. Our committee has been diligently working to develop a meeting that embraces our theme, Courage to Lead. The dynamics of our profession are changing more rapidly than perhaps at any other time in the history of dentistry. There are many areas in which we can choose to lead - practicing with the latest technology in our offices, becoming involved with organized dentistry, working more closely with our legislators, mentoring those new to the profession -- just to name a few. As you look over this year's meeting agenda, which includes continuing education topics, a listing of exhibitors, and the social events, our hope is that you will find many opportunities to develop the "tools" needed to accept this leadership challenge.

Our committee has worked hard to put together a very strong program with a wide array of topics being offered. Some of the top names in the country are found in our featured speakers. On Thursday, Dr. Jeff Okeson will speak both in the morning and afternoon sessions on Non-Odontogenic Toothaches and Clinical Management of TMD, respectively. For the staff, Debra Engelhardt-Nash will be giving an all-day presentation on topics pertinent to their roles in the dental office. On Friday, Dr. Lou Graham will give a two-part lecture on A Sound Recession Proof Restorative/Hygiene Practice; Integrating the Team and Adding the Value. Additionally on Friday, attendees can choose between Dr.

Wally Renee (Digital Dentistry, Modern Ceramics, and Ceramic Bonding), Dr. Roy Rockman (Autism and ADHD: How They Affect Dentistry), and Dr. Paul Eleazer (Dental Trauma: What Are Guidelines Worth?).

One change you will see in the schedule this year, however, is a full day of continuing education on Saturday. Many of you responded to the strategic planning surveys that your work schedules restricted attendance at our annual session during the week and there were not enough quality courses on Saturday. Attendees can choose between five different speakers on Saturday morning. These include: Dr. Doyle Williams and Ms. Rebekah Steen (Update on the SC Healthy Connections Medicaid Dental Program and the Importance of Prenatal Care in Birth Outcomes), Dr. Charlie Hook (Infectious Control and OSHA Update for the Dental Office), Dr. Paul Eleazer (Microbe Wars: Who is Winning the Battle and Who Will Win the War), Dr. Wally Renee (Hands-On E4D CAD/CAM Seminar), and Dr. Rob Ritter (Clinical Success from A-Z, Adhesives to Zirconium). Dr. Ritter will also speak on Saturday afternoon.

As in years past, this meeting will be held at Kingston Plantation in Myrtle Beach on May 3-6, 2012. We look forward to seeing you there and please visit our website (www.scdaannualsession.com) for more information and updates.

2012 Membership Dues Reminder

By Christy Meador

To avoid the SCDA late fee of $100 added to your 2010 membership dues, please remit your dues payment by February 15, 2012. Your membership will lapse on March 15, 2012 if you have not paid by then and if you have insurance with the SCDA or ADA (Great West), it will be discontinued at that point in time. You will also lose your consecutive years of service with the ADA if you non-renew. Don't let this happen to you. Membership dues for 2012 were mailed back in October 2011. If you have not received your dues statement or you have misplaced it, please email meadorc@scda.org to request your statement be resent.

Thanks to the hundreds of SCDA members who have already submitted their 2012 Membership Dues and Membership Update Forms! Be sure to check over the Membership Update Form enclosed with your dues statement. Make any necessary changes and return it with your dues payment in the return envelope that was provided for you. This is very important because we use this sheet to print the membership directory.

ADA cards will be placed in the mail sometime in January 2012. If you have any changes such as mailing address or district changes, please contact me at the SCDA office 800-327-2598 or by emailing meadorc@scda.org. Cards were printed in the fall by the ADA, so address or district changes might have been made since they were printed.

Flora And Floppy Go To The Dentist

"Flora and Floppy go to the Dentist" is a 20 minute interactive puppet show for children ages 3-7. This unique initiative was created as a result of an American Dental Association (ADA) grant that funded the theater to create a traveling puppet show.

Some of the messages highlighted in the show include:

- brushing and flossing teeth
- going to the dentist
- getting dental sealants
- eating healthy foods and limiting sugary foods and drinks
- drinking fluoridated water

The performances are designed for large groups of students. The cost of the show is $225 within a 50 mile radius of Columbia and $250 outside a 50 mile radius of the Columbia area.

For more information on sponsoring/scheduling a show, contact John Scollon, Executive Director of the Columbia Marionette Theater at 803-252-7366 or via email puppetgnomes@msn.com.

President's Message

Dr. Jabbour's message is taken from her address to the House of Delegates on Friday, December 2, 2011.

Good morning and welcome delegates, members, staff and family, to our December House of Delegates meeting. It is my great honor to address this body of colleagues on this bright Dec morning. I recognize that there are many other places and events you could be attending today, yet you have honored the South Carolina Dental Association and your profession with your presence here in Columbia. Thank you!

As it is tradition for the incoming president to address this body, I would like to thank you in advance for your attention and share a few stories and challenges with you, the first of which you have already met with your presence here today.

With that in mind, I'd like to share a short story of Dr. Eli Capilouto, the new president of my alma mater, the University of Kentucky and a dentist:

About 10 yrs ago, when his daughter was 13 yrs old, she insisted he watch with her the movie Gladiator. He didn't know why she asked, but looking for a moment to bond with his daughter, he agreed. At the end of the movie, he turned to her and asked, "What was the most important statement that Russell Crowe made to his followers?" She didn't know, but he persisted and asked again, "Please, as a parent, tell me what you thought was the most important statement." She said, "Oh, I got it... 'On my command, unleash hell!'" After a short laugh and some time to compose myself, he said, "No. The most important question was when he turned to his followers and asked, 'Why are we here?'"

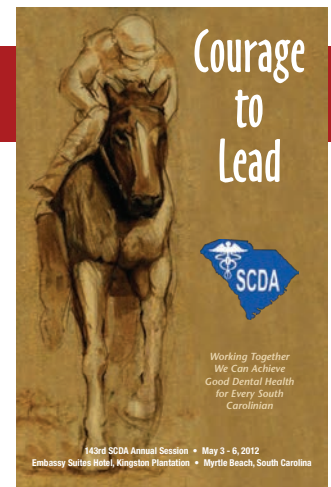

Why are we here? Some are fortunate enough to be born in this great state and others migrate drawn by the music of her swishing palm fronds, the soft gritty feel of her sandy beaches between the toes, the sweet jasmine wafting over a neighbor's fence calling to us, calling to us to adopt her as 'home'. As many of you know, I am one of the later. South Carolina's palms and sand, even her red clay that fills my backyard, called to me from my first visit as a child in the summers playing in the surf of Myrtle Beach. My mother recalls me telling her at the age of 5 while vacationing on said beaches, that one day I would live here. (I am sure I probably meant the beach, but...)

20 years later and 2 weeks before graduating dental school, I attended the SCDA annual meeting at the Grove Park Inn. It was there I was introduced to the then SCDA president and landlord of one of my best buds, Dr. Richard Jabbour, as well as Dr. Howard Higgins, Dr. Vaughn Bullard and Dr. David Stoltz, among many, many other dentists, (I think almost anyone who Rich knew) all of whom were incredibly welcoming. Most importantly, although I didn't think so at the time, I was also introduced to my now husband, Edward, with whom I barely spoke with as I had only a job on my mind... How many of us can say we met our spouse at the Annual Meeting? And now, as you are aware, my progress to the beach with sand between my toes was halted by the red clay of Spartanburg and a most charming man who has been by my side the last 20 years, or 20 years this next convention! Another benefit of membership! Ha!

About 10 years ago while attending one of the ADA meetings, I began discussing with one of my classmates about the dental associations seeming to be much of an 'old boys' network' while we were sipping drinks at our college reception (a belief shared by some of our members as well according to our last survey). Her response was "Why do you think I moved north? But let me introduce you to our new dean at UKCD, Dr. Sharon Turner." What many of you may not know is that Dr. Turner is a graduate of Winthrop, she's a dentist, a lawyer and was UKCD's first female dean. After a little more sipping and conversation (remember- sipping bourbon can get you into trouble!) she gave me the advice that has led to where I stand today. She told me to quit whining on the sidelines and begin to get involved making changes from the inside. Essentially, she told me to get in the game. Be present and find your passion. Her words resonated. Be present. Find your passion. My passion had been dentistry since I had entered dental school and never looked back, but I wasn't truly present. Not yet. I was sitting on the sidelines playing armchair quarterback, so to speak. It was time to get in the game and quit whining!

Now you know why I am here, why are you here? I would venture to guess there are many answers, as personal and different as each face before me. Maybe you are here because you see changes within dentistry and outside of dentistry that concern you. Maybe you realize the world of our little offices where we practice our craft and treat our patients is under attack from forces known and perhaps those yet to be known. Perhaps you are concerned with the direction of the association in the midst of these most challenging times.

My sorority has a creed; we call it a Symphony, which charges us "to choose thoughtfully that course which occasion and conscience demand." That is part of why we are present collectively today. Collectively, this House will choose thoughtfully the course of this association. The course your governing board will endeavor to carry out during 2012, a year promising legislative and economic challenges. As an association and as a profession we face many challenges not the least of which is remaining relevant to our members, part of that, to me, means equipping our members and empowering them to meet the challenges previously mentioned and those yet to come.

The Christian liturgical calendar begins its year anew with the season of Advent. We have just begun the first week of Advent, the time to prepare, to consider thoughtfully the birth of the Christ child. This is also the time for us as a profession to prepare, to consider thoughtfully the direction we shall chart for the coming year.

The job of the president is to carry out the will of the house. If the desire of the House is to strengthen our legislative influence and understanding, your board and committees will take this on and move forward. If the desire of this House is for the association to fervently work to equip and empower the membership your board, committees and task forces will move forward. If the desire of this House is to strengthen and continue the efforts of community service with our DAD projects and our many other service projects, your board, committees and task forces will move forward. But to be successful, to make a difference in the lives of our members, our patients and the citizens of our wonderful state, you must also be present.

Now I stand before you, my colleagues and family, on my adopted soil about to take the challenge of leading this beloved association, which has given me so much in the past, into the future. I hope that during these past years and in 2012 I can encourage each of you to be present, get in the game, and to have the courage to lead. We owe it not only to our patients who grant us the opportunity to treat & teach them but to our profession that has granted us admittance and acceptance into its tribe and to ourselves as the practice of dentistry, the art of learning did not stop with graduation.

I can only offer my most sincere gratitude to those wonderful dentists, Hal Zorn and many others who have mentored and led me to this place as well as those seated before me whose trust I take very seriously as I and your board of governors pilot your South Carolina Dental Association over the next year. Let's all remember why we are here and over the next year I challenge each of you to BE present and to have the COURAGE TO LEAD.

Send us your story ideas!

Do you have an idea for a story? We'd love to hear it. We're always looking for topics of interest to our members.

If you have a suggestion, email Jennifer Haworth at haworthj@scda.org or call 800-327-2598.

Please be specific We'll let you know if and when your idea will come to fruition. Thanks for your help!

Executive Director's Notes

Mr. Phil Latham

January always brings a time to reflect and a time to set new goals. 2012 promises to be a very busy year for your Association. The SCDA kicks things off early in January with a Leadership event planned by the Strategic Planning Committee. The conference is set for Friday, January 20, 2012 at 9 AM at EdVenture. The featured speaker will be Mary Byers who is the co-author of Race for Relevance: Five Radical Changes for Associations. This conference is free of charge and you can register by emailing Mark Brown at brownm@scda.org.

In February, the legislative session will kick into high gear and your Association will be involved in many bills and Medicaid.

Right after that, final plans will be made for the 143rd SCDA Annual Convention. The 2012 Committee has added some new and interesting items to the program. So be on the outlook for the program, but make your plans to attend now and mark your calendars May 3-6, 2012. If you are a delegate or alternate, please note the House of Delegates will be held Thursday, May 3rd at 7:30 AM.

Another highlight for the SCDA in 2012 will be our 4th Dental Access Days (DAD) project which will be held in Columbia. Drs. Lee Ayers, George Bumgardner, Julia Mikell, Thomas Edmonds and Jim Mercer have already held several meetings to begin the planning process. Volunteer forms are on the SCDA website and it is not too early to sign up now.

When summer ends, the SCDA will turn its attention to national items which will be little busier than in the past. Right after the 16th District Caucus meeting in Myrtle Beach next year, the SCDA leadership will travel to San Francisco for the ADA national meeting and with a focus to get Dr. Chuck Norman from North Carolina elected to ADA President Elect.

Lastly, in December 2012, the SCDA's House of Delegates will conclude a very busy year. When you add in all of the Boards, Committees and Task Force meetings, it promises to be a busy, but productive year.

The SCDA remains committed to keep you up to date and the easiest way to do this is via email. So make it point to check your emails often in 2012 to get monthly updates from the SCDA and SCDA Member Benefits Group. Also, check them for SCDA Alerts and Legislative Alerts. You may miss some of the most important news that pertains directly to you if you don't.

I trust everyone had a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

Do not hesitate to contact one of the staff at the SCDA if we can be of service to you.

To attend SCDA's Leadership event, contact Mark Brown at brownm@scda.org or by calling 800.327.2598

Dental Community Fellowship Hosts Golf Tournament For Scholarship Fund

By Leigh Ann Blackman & Britten Carter, MUSC Students

Dental Community Fellowship (DCF) is a nonprofit organization chartered at the Medical University of South Carolina in 2001 as a dental student chapter of the Christian Medical and Dental Associations (CMDA). CMDA's aim is to impact healthcare through adherence to biblical principles. On short term mission trips where portable equipment is utilized, DCF teams provide dental care to the underserved in many parts of the world. Activities at home also provide a platform for Christian development among students.

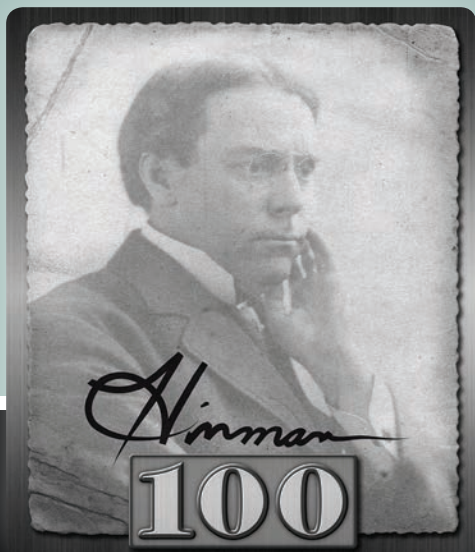

Besides students, DCF teams are typically made up of graduate dentists, spouses, and helpers. By our visits, we hope to impact culture, both locally as well as abroad, through faith in Christ and service in dentistry. Team members pay their own way and freely give of their time, talents, and resources with no expectation for compensation. Frequently, "payment in full" comes in the form of a smile, hug, or kind word of gratitude.

This year marks 10 years of ministry to students and needy patients in places like Ecuador, Burundi, Costa Rica, Trinidad, Haiti, and Honduras. In addition, in previous years DCF teams have also been to faraway places in Southeast Asia, India, China, and countries in Africa. Thousands have been treated who might not have been able to obtain or afford needed dental care.

The cost of a dental education at MUSC increases every year. Most students accumulate huge debt in the form of loans which often prevent them from being able to participate on one of the DCF mission projects. In order to help in this regard, DCF is seeking to raise scholarship funds by hosting its first Tee Off For Teeth Golf Tournament on Saturday, January 21, 2011 at the Links at Stono Ferry. We need businesses and individuals to partner with us through participation and financial support of DCF's mission. For more information, please contact Leigh Ann Blackman at 843-253-1996 or at golfdcf@gmail.com.

SolmeteX Dental Announces Townie Choice Award for 2011

It has recently been announced that Dental Town Magazine has awarded the 2011 Townie Choice Award in the category of amalgam separators to the SolmeteX Hg5. The Townie Choice Award is based on satisfaction from the end users of products in the dental industry.

The Hg5 has received the Townie Choice Award in the amalgam separator category for the ninth consecutive year. The leading manufacturer of amalgam separators in North America, SolmeteX has more installations than all other amalgam separator manufacturers combined. Founded in 1994 as a water treatment company, SolmeteX introduced the Hg5 Amalgam Separators at the Greater New York Dental Show in 2000. As a division of Layne Christensen, SolmeteX is uniquely positioned to provide product and services beyond any other amalgam separator company in the US.

Al Dubé, National Sales Manager for SolmeteX states, "SolmeteX is honored to have received the 2011 Townie Choice award. We have a long history of quality and cost effective solutions to your dental water, waste water and solid waste needs. The Hg5 amalgam separator has received the Townie Choice Award every year since the inception of the award. We work diligently to maintain a high quality product and the best customer relations in the industry. We look forward to 2012 and the new opportunities the New Year will present."

For additional information on the Hg5 series of amalgam separators, waste compliance products and water treatment products offered by SolmeteX, visit www.solmetex.com or contact your favorite dental dealer. SolmeteX is endorsed by the SCDA and members who purchase a SolmeteX separator qualify for a free container ($170 value).
